LOCUST POLICE DEPARTMENT COMMUNITY NEWSLETTER

jbslpd@gmail.com

Welcome to the October 2016 edition of the Locust Police Department Community Newsletter. As you may have noticed this is the first edition I have had time to produce since the May edition. As much as I enjoy my current position in investigations, I must admit one of the things I miss the most about my patrol years was the ability to produce a thorough newsletter for our citizens each month. Unfortunately, my current position entails many more responsibilities than my previous, and that same availability of time is just not there. This is even more the reality in the summer months in Locust and it has been that way since I started here in 2009.

This edition is mostly to (somewhat) catch you up on crime statistics for the current calendar year and I have caught those up through the first six months of 2016. Directly before the monthly stats for March-June, I've provided a breakdown comparison for the first six months of 2015 and 2016. To alleviate the suspense before-hand, although I may privately complain that it seems our call volume (specifically incidents that I have to investigate) has increased, the numbers show a similarity that has seemed to exist since I first started tracking department statistics several years ago. For a city that is growing, those numbers are encouraging for what Locust is known for; a great city to live, work, and play.

Hopefully in the next couple of months I will be able to update you on developments within the department as well as some crime briefs from recent months. Until then as always, feel free to contact me at 704-888-4744 or through my email at jbslpd@gmail.com. Everyone take care.

SCAM ATTEMPTS REMINDER

I won't get into a big spill about telephone, mail, and online scam activity as I've talked about it so many times in the past. There are also entirely too many methods utilized to threaten or otherwise convince you to provide information or money to attempt to cover them all.

The simple answer is unless you know someone personally, you should likely assume that someone who is demanding a payment or requesting personal information through these sources is likely a scam. Politely decline (or hang up angrily if the mood strikes you) and do your own follow-up research. Feel free to email me at jbslpd@gmail.com if you have any questions and you can also consult some of our resources on the Locust PD website.
